FIRE FIGHTING HISTORY HERE TOLD BY SHEADS

The story of the various fire-fighting organizations that have served Gettysburg since the town was founded in 1806 and an account of the epidemic of incendiarism here in the middle of the last century were told to members of the Adams County Historical society at their March meeting Tuesday evening in the court house basement.

The speaker was J. M. Sheads, former president of the society and a member of the faculty of the Gettysburg high school.

"In 1808, the Gettysburg town council authorized the formation of fire companies and some kind of primitive apparatus was purchased with axes, buckets, hooks and ladders," Mr. Sheads said. "One of the most singular facts in the history of the town was that while Gettysburg had its share of fires and went through a period when it was said that the town was infested with firebugs and stable after stable went up in smoke, yet it was a fact that no residence was burned down for nearly 80 years after the founding of the town.

Gettys House First To Go

"The first residence to be destroyed by fire was the first residence to be built in this vicinity. It was the oldest house in town, the home of the founder, James Gettys, the old stone house owned in later years by Adam Doersom and standing in the rear of the Globe hotel stable in Race Horse alley. It was destroyed in the fire which laid the hotel stables in ashes in 1880. That fire was fought with bucket brigades from every pump and well in the neighborhood. The old hand engine was attached to the big well in front of the Rupp barn on Stratton street."

Mr. Sheads said Gettysburg's first engine house was built in 1809 and was sold in 1830 for $15 and was probably near the site of the second which council ordered built in 1822. It was erected on Baltimore street near the present Chritzman home, opposite the post office. An engine was purchased in 1830 which was called the "Guard."

Mr. Sheads continued: "Gettysburg at one time had three engines of the hand variety and companies in charge of each. The oldest engine was called "Blue Dick" and had been bought second hand in Baltimore. On its first trial it was able to throw a stream of water to the roof of the court house building, then in the Diamond, or Lincoln Square today.

"There were two lighter hand engines which the boys and younger men had charge of. They were named for two Mexican war veterans, 'General Taylor' and 'Captain May.' General Taylor had been a Whig so the Whig boys of Gettysburg made the engine called after him their favorite while the Democratic boys adopted 'Captain May,' named for

CHURCH CIRCLE HOLDS METTING TUESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. J. William Kendlehart, president, presided at the March business meeting of Trinity circle of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church, held Tuesday evening in the church parlor, with 15 members in attendance.

A special purchasing committee reported that the kitchen at the church is now fully equipped with modern utensils and machinery. Benefit projects were discussed and a request was made for a demonstration of plastics. Mrs. S. Lester Scott, ways and means chairman, was authorized to investigate and arrange for such a demonstration.

Routine reports were given by Mrs. Howard S. Fox, acting secretary for Mrs. Perry J. Tawney, and Mrs. Curtis Flohr, treasurer. Mrs. William Ziegler, East Middle street, was welcomed as a new member.

Refreshments Are Served

The circle voted to make its annual payment for the bulletins to be used at Easter Sunday services. A number of thank-you cards were read and cards sent to persons who are ill were reported by the Sunshine committee.

Refreshments were served by the hostess committee headed by Mrs. Paul Myers. Assisting her were Mrs. Joseph D. Kendlehart, and Mrs. C. T. Ziegler. Mrs. Robert F. Saylor, Sr., a member of the committee, was unable to attend because of illness.

Hostesses for the April meeting include Mrs. J. William Kendlehart, chairman; Mrs. C. Robert Deardorff, Mrs. Donald E. Myers and Mrs. Robert J. Weikert.

CLUB TO MEET

The Harrisburg Road Home Economics group will meet Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Herbert E. Zepp. The group will study salads. Miss Mary Jane Mickey will be the leader.

EXCHANGE CLUB WILL INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

Officers of the Exchange club will be installed at the first anniversary dinner and ladies night to be held at the Lincoln Logs, Lincolnway East, Tuesday evening, March 27. A state or national officer will be in charge of the installation.

Plans for the dinner were reported at the regular weekly meeting of the club Tuesday night at Bankert's restaurant. John Codori is chairman of the banquet committee and Nelson Groft is in charge of entertainment. The dinner will be held at 7 p.m.

Officers to be installed are David E. Garfinkle, Jr., president; E. Donald Scott, vice president; John Slentz, secretary and Carl Prosser, treasurer.

The treasurer submitted a report on the Christmas lighting fund. The placing of the Christmas lights and decorations in Lincoln Square and intersecting streets was a club project last year. To raise money for the lights and decorations the club sponsored two performances at the high school by the Allenberry Players. A third play will be held on April 26, a farce, "The Male Animal."

The report showed total expenditures for the lights of $505.18. Receipts from the two plays October 18 and December 7 were $1,811.40. Expenses of staging the plays left a balance of $329.92 in the fund. The third play will cost the club $300, and $105 remains to be paid the school for use of the auditorium, it was reported, leaving the club approximately $75 "in the red" without the proceeds from single admission tickets for the third play. Most tickets were sold in blocks for all three plays, however.

The next meeting of the club will be held March 13 at Bankert's.

LIBRARIAN TO ADDRESS CLUB

Rev. Herbert H. Schmidt, librarian of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, will be the speaker for the March meeting of the Woman's club, to be held at the seminary library Wednesday afternoon, March 14, at 2 o'clock. He will speak on "Dusting Off Old Manuscripts."

Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars will be in charge of the opening devotions, and Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas, president of the club, will preside. Mrs. Ralph Heim and Mrs. William C. Tyson, co-chairman of the Peace Service committee, will be in charge of the program.

The hostesses will be Mrs. A. R. Wentz, chairman; Mrs. Robert E. Berkheimer, Mrs. William E. Hartshorne, Mrs. Lewars, Mrs. Ralph Z. Oyler, Mrs. Carl C. Rasmussen, Mrs. R. F. Saylor, Mrs. E. F. Strausbaugh, Miss Estelle A. Wasson, Mrs. W. E. Wolff and Mrs. C. T. Ziegler.

Plan Organization Of County Farmers

Farmers throughout Adams county are urged to attend a meeting of the Pennsylvania Farmers association to be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the court house here.

Howard Waybright, Adams county director of the Pennsylvania Farmers association, said that a county branch of the association will be organized at that meeting.

French Miles, secretary-treasurer of the Pennsylvania Farmers association, will discuss the purposes of the organization and will present a proposed constitution for the county association for approval by those present.

Following approval of the constitution those planning to become members will elect a board of directors. After the regular session the directors will meet to name a president, vice president and secretary-treasurer, Waybright said.

He added that all farmers are eligible for membership in the organization.

William E. Lady Is Buried On Tuesday

Last rites for Attorney William Ellis Lady, a native of Adams county, who died February 26 in Los Angeles, Calif., were held Tuesday afternoon from the Bender funeral home here with the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh officiating. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery with Masonic rites at the grave.

The pallbearers were Glenn L. Bream, Dr. Luther Beegle, Harold Lady, Edward Lady, Pius Topper and John Beegle.

BOARD MEETS WEDNESDAY

The regular monthly meeting of the health board will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the office of the president, Dr. Harrison F. Harbach, South Washington street.

Firemen's Group Meets Friday Night

A meeting of the general committee of the Gettysburg fire company in charge of the celebration of the 88th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg will be held at the fire engine house Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

The celebration this year will be held June 29 and 30, and July 1, 2, 3 and 4.

JULIETTE LOW RALLY PLANNED FOR SATURDAY

Approximately 200 Brownies and Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts of Adams county are expected to participate in a Juliette Low rally to be held in the Gettysburg high school gymnasium Saturday from 10:45 a.m. to 1:45 p.m. Juliette Low was the founder of Girl Scouting which was organized on March 12, 1912.

The program will include singing, led by Mrs. Joseph Baker, games, and a "nose-bag" luncheon in the school cafetria at noon. Milk, chocolate milk and orange juice for the luncheon will be furnished by the Penn Supreme company.

Following the luncheon a movie, "World Fellowship," depicting scenes at the International Girl Scout camp at Cooperstown, N. Y., will be shown.

Each troop will contribute to the Juliette Low Friendship fund through a wishing-well, the troop representative who will make the contribution being attired in costume of a foreign country.

"Our Chalet," the International Girl Scout song, will be sung at the conclusion of the program.

College Band To Present Concert

Gettysburg college's band will present a concert, Sunday evening, at Eddie Plank gymnasium.

The Varsity Minnesingers, a men's chorus, will make its debut between the two parts of the concert, and will offer the following selections, "On the Sea," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "The Orchestra Song."

The band, which is directed by Paul H. Harner, will offer a varied program including marches, Gershwin's selections, and others. Elwood H. Miller, Jr., is student director.

To Aid Youths Build Model Airplanes

Plans to assist youngsters in constructing model airplanes were outlined Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Gettysburg Model Airplane club held at the Albert J. Lentz American Legion home, Baltimore street.

President Eugene L. Fluharty said that youngsters may bring their models to the next meeting, March 19 at the Legion home, or contact members for assistance in model airplane construction.

J. F. Kissel, president of the Chambersburg model airplane club, spoke at Tuesday's meeting which 28 attended. A movie, "Wings Over the World," was shown. The group voted to meet Monday nights instead of Tuesday now that the group has rooms available to work on its models at meetings.

GETS ARMY PROMOTIONS

Bernard Sneeringer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sneeringer, Bonneauville, has been promoted to sergeant, his family has learned. Sergeant Sneeringer, stationed in Korea since last August, has been a member of the U.S. Air Force for approximately three years.

Want U.S. Flag Flown Every Feb. 12th Here

The Adams County Historical society wants to make sure that on future anniversaries of the birth of Abraham Lincoln the American flag will be flown in Lincoln Square.

The society adopted a motion Tuesday evening urging the borough council to pass an ordinance requiring that the flag be flown each February 12.

After the motion had been proposed, Burgess William G. Weaver, who was in the audience, said that the failure to display the flag in the square last February 12 had come to the attention of the town council and that orders had been given that the flag be flown on the Lincoln Square pole on every holiday.

Homer N. Young, who had made the motion, said he felt the flag-flying order should be in the form of an ordinance and the motion passed without a dissenting vote.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

A local teen-ager has a sentimental interest in the famous 27th Wolfhound U. S. Regiment playing an important role in the war in Korea. He's an honorary mascot of the regiment and cherishes one of the famous black onyx and gold insigne of the regiment, a gift from one of its former commanders. The story goes like this:

In 1914 Lester L. Lampert (later PMST at Gettysburg college) was commissioned a second lieutenant and graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point. His first assignment was with the 27th Wolfhound Regiment, the only U. S. outfit officially recognized by a nickname. It is also recognized as the most widely traveled regiment in the service.

In 1939 Lampert, then a colonel, was ordered from Gettysburg to Hawaii where he was placed in command of the 27th, a post he cherished because it was the first outfit he served with. A short time later he made the local youth, then only 2 years old, an honorary mascot of the Wolfhounds and instructed a New York jeweler to send the prized insigne to him.

Teen-Age Mob Knifes, Stones And Clubs Youths In Philly

Philadelphia, March 7 (AP) — A band of teen-agers, armed with knives, clubs and stones, attacked spectators leaving a basketball game at the University of Pennsylvania Palestra last night, injuring at least 14 persons.

Six of the assailants whose full number police could not be determined, were arrested, questioned, then charged with inciting to riot. They will be taken to juvenile court. Authorities withheld their names, because all are under 18.

The 14 reported injured are in their teens. Two of them, Allen Benjamin and Albert Seraydorian, suffered serious stab wounds in the back.

The rioting started outside the palestra after a Philadelphia public high school league championship game. It spread for two blocks, to the Commercial Museum where another crowd, having attended a flower show, was breaking up to go home. In the melee men and women alike were felled. Street cars and buses in the area were brought to a standstill for the time being.

Police turned in a riot alarm from four districts. Before this help arrived, however, most of the attackers had fled.

Authorities said the six who were arrested gave no clear reason for the assault, which police described as senseless and unprovoked hooliganism.

A crowd of more than 5,000 saw the championship game at the Palestra in which West Philadelphia defeated Benjamin Franklin 41-37.

LEAGUE WOMEN HEAR PLANS FOR FALL MEETING

Members of the Gettysburg chapter of the Women's League of Gettysburg college at their March meeting Tuesday afternoon at Christ Lutheran church were told of plans for the 40th anniversary convention of the general league here next fall.

The convention outline was presented by Mrs. Earl Ziegler in a report on the recent meeting of the general league board. She said a new Golden Book of Special Gifts will be opened and the theme for the convention will be: "Under the shadow of the Almighty: God has been our help in the past; God has been our stay in the present; God is our hope in the future."

The women decided to distribute organ fund envelopes at the May meeting for use during the summer.

Announces Rummage Sale

Mrs. J. C. Donley, registrar, announced the names of Mrs. Arthur Rice and Mrs. C. E. Bilheimer for the Book of Memories.

Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, promotion chairman, announced a rummage sale for April 20 and 21 at the Leatherman building, Lincoln Square.

The opening devotions were conducted by Mrs. Wallace E. Fisher. A food sale was conducted before and after Tuesday's meeting.

The entertainment program for the afternoon included two violin solos by Mrs. Virginia Hershey Barriga, "Nocturne" and "Liebesleid" by Kreisler with Mrs. Jacob Heikkinen as piano accompanist.

Mrs. Albert Bachman introduced John Drew, program director for WGET, who read Irish poetry in dialect and explained methods of radio auditioning. He and Mrs. Henry Scharf read a radio script titled "Dreaming of Michael."

Mrs. Philip McGuire sang "Thine Alone" from "Eileen" by Victor Herbert and "Last Rose of Summer" from the opera "Martha." The meeting closed with the singing of the "Alma Mater."

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Albert Bachman, chairman; Mrs. M. K. Eckert, Mrs. James P. Cairns, Miss Anna Cairns, Mrs. George Thrush, Mrs. C. H. Hett, Mrs. George Larkin, Mrs. Arthur Brame, Mrs. Mervin Benner, Mrs. S. F. Snyder, Mrs. C. B. Stover, and Mrs. J. I. Burgoon. Tea was served with Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson and Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh presiding at the tea table.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, May 1, with Mrs. John B. Zinn as chairman.

A. Dale Knouse Is Candidate For Judge

A. Dale Knouse, Biglerville R. 1, Menallen township, today announced his candidacy for nomination on the Republican ticket for associate judge.

A farmer and an attendant of the Gettysburg market for many years, he is completing this year a term as associate judge of Adams county.

PLAN SERVICES FOR HOLY WEEK

Special Holy Week services from March 19 to 23 inclusive in the churches of the East Berlin Evangelical and Reformed charge were announced today by Rev. Alton M. Leister, minister, and Morgan S. Haney, assistant minister, as follows:

Monday evening in Mt. Olivet church at "Two Churches," near Bermudian, at 7:30 o'clock, with Rev. Leister officiating and Rev. Lester J. Karschner of the Abbottstown-East Berlin Lutheran charge preaching.

Tuesday evening in St. Paul (Red Run) Union church, near East Berlin, at 7:30 o'clock, with Rev. Mr. Leister officiating and Rev. William H. Banks, of Grace Evangelical and Reformed church, Hanover, preaching.

Wednesday evening in St. John's church, New Chester, at 7:30 o'clock, with Rev. Mr. Leister officiating and The Rev. Morgan R. W. Andrees, of the Taneytown Evangelical and Reformed charge, preaching.

A Union Preparatory Service will be conducted on Thursday evening in Zwingli church, East Berlin, at 7:30 o'clock, with Rev. Mr. Leister preaching on the subject, "Rejected or Selected." The Union Service on Friday evening will be conducted in Emmanuel church, Hampton, at 7:30 o'clock, with Mr. Haney preaching. The general public as well as members of all the five churches of the charge are invited to attend.

CASHTOWN DANCE SATURDAY

The Cashtown Fire Company will hold the second in a series of dances Saturday evening from 8 o'clock to midnight at the fire hall, President Bruce Wetzel announced today. The dances are being held, particularly, for young people, Wetzel said. Square dancing will be featured.

Scouts Plan Scrap Drive Here Saturday

Members of the local Catholic Boy Scout troop will conduct a scrap drive Saturday, the troop committee announced today.

During the drive, scheduled to start at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and continue throughout the day, the Scouts will call for and collect paper, rags, magazines and scrap metal.

Persons who wish the Scouts to call for the materials should telephone 272-X or 546-Y and leave their names and addresses, it was announced. The Scouts will be in uniform when they call for the articles.

Final arrangements for participation of the Scouts in the drive will be made Thursday evening at the regular meeting of the troop at St. Francis Xavier hall.

GIVE PROGRAM AT PAST GRANDS MEETING HERE

A program by the Rebekahs, including a "fashion show of 1900" was presented Tuesday evening at the 204th meeting of the Adams County Past Grands association held at the Gettysburg Lodge of Odd Fellows on Chambersburg street.

The entertainment included a comedy skit by Mrs. Donald Weikert and Mrs. Merle Rudisill; a vocal solo by Miss Viola Sachs, accompanied by Miss Naomi Schwartz and readings by Mrs. Percy Miller and Mrs. Daisy Wireman.

During the presentation of the "Style Show," a woman's coat purchased at Daugherty and Hartley's in 1902, complete ladies' and gentlemen's street costumes of 1900, bathing costumes of the same date, a Chinese kimona and a Japanese costume and a nightgown of the 1900 period were shown.

Four Lodges Represented

All four lodges of the county were represented at the meeting. Donald S. Weikert presided. J. Frank Dougherty, of Gettysburg, gave the address of welcome and George M. Neely, Fairfield, gave the response. Ernest R. Sentz, of Littlestown, read the secretary's report.

The next meeting of the Past Grands association will be held Monday, April 2, at Littlestown.

TAKE 2 BOYS, STOLEN AUTO

Two New York city boys, 17 and 18 years old respectively, were apprehended by state police of the Gettysburg substation at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night near Gettysburg in an automobile owned by Arnold Peda, The Bronx, New York, which they had taken without the owner's permission, police said.

Police found the car and the two occupants in it parked at the side of the Lincoln highway seven miles west of Gettysburg where they had run out of gasoline. Police said neither of the boys had any money. They told police they had started for Nebraska.

Because taking a stolen car across state lines is a federal offense, the Federal Bureau of Investigation was notified. Officers were to come here today for the two boys. The owner of the car, a brother-in-law of one of the youths, came here to drive the car back.

Admits Theft Of Radio And Blanket

Jack Chamberlain, Gettysburg R. 4, arrested in Hanover Monday by Hanover police and turned over to state police of the Gettysburg substation on a larceny charge, signed a plea of guilty Tuesday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder and was held for court.

He was remanded to jail in default of bail.

Chamberlain was charged with the theft of a radio and a blanket from Herrick's cabin's, Lincolnway East, on February 10. A warrant was issued on complaint of Bessie Emmanuel, but police said Chamberland went to Maryland. Hanover police, notified that he was wanted, picked him up when he returned to this state and was seen there.

Plan Woman's Day At St. Paul's Church

The annual Woman's Day will be observed at St. Paul's AME Zion church on Sunday with Mrs. C. Louise Stanton in charge.

At the service at 11 a.m. the pastor, the Rev. J. O. Fountain, will speak on "Women of the Bible." Music will be furnished by the youth choir for the combined service for parents and children.

A variety program will be given at the evening service at 7:30 o'clock with music by the youth choir and the Community Gospel chorus.

The public is invited to attend the services.

UN Launches New Assault Along 55-Mile Korean Front

Tokyo, March 7 (AP)—Allied forces attacked on a 55-mile front behind a thunderous artillery barrage in Korea today, but thousands of Reds smashed back on the eastern end of the battleline.

Elements of all three corps in the U. S. Eighth Army pushed off in clear, crisp weather in a general assault. Taking part were six American and Republic of Korea (ROK) divisions and smaller Allied units.

Scarcely had the push started with crossings of the Han river east of Seoul than two Korean Red corps with an estimated strength of 13,500 counter-attacked on the eastern flank of the mountainous battlefront.

Battalion Unreported

A. P. Correspondent Tom Stone reported "The sudden appearance of the massing Reds all but checkmated a U. S. Seventh Division attack that started earlier in the day." A ROK battalion was unreported at nightfall.

ROK troops on the American division's right flank were forced to withdraw one to three miles.

Red resistance was bitter elsewhere on the central and west-central fronts.

On the western end of the attack line, a battalion of the famous 27th Wolfhound Regiment of the U. S. 25th Division surged across the twisting Han in assault boats.

The battalion shoved off at 6:15 a.m. (4:15 p.m., EST Tuesday).

Its crossing point was not given. However, the 25th Division was located only last week as near Punwon, 15 miles east of Seoul.

3 Waves of Yanks

The Wolfhounds hit the Red side of the stream in three waves. Other American elements surged across to the left and right. Opposition during the first hour was light. But then the Reds opened up with mortars, machineguns and artillery.

East of the crossing points, the U. S. First Marine Division, four American infantry divisions, and their attached Allied elements pushed off.

The U. S. 24th Division, on the Wolfhound right flank, took one hill but encountered stiff Chinese opposition on two others. And on the 24th's right flank, British troops ran into dug-in Reds north of the lateral Yongdu-Hoengsong road.

MacArthur At Front

A. P. Correspondent William C. Barnard reported: "The thunder of artillery was constant all along the front backing up the attack. Planes were swooping down on the battle line from early morning."

The battle was fought over hard-packed snow remaining from a six-inch snowfall Tuesday.

General MacArthur visited the front shortly after the push began. The attack line ran from several Han river crossing points east of Seoul to an area north of Pangnim, some 55 miles to the east.

Only on the extreme eastern end of the line did the U.N. forces run into serious trouble at the outset. There powerful Korean Red attacks forced South Korean troops to withdraw one to three miles on the right flank of the attacking U. S. Seventh Division.

There was speculation at first that the Red counterthrust, which preceded news of the general Allied attack might be the forerunner of an expected Red counteroffensive.

Foe Badly Mauled

However, A. P. Correspondent Stone reported that the Red attacks seemed aimed at relieving pressure on the badly-mauled North Korean Third Corps in front of the U. S. Seventh Division.

He said South Korean Seventh Division troops fell back to new lines to stabilize and protect the United Nations line northeast of Amidong on the east-central front.

There were reports of Chinese going into the sector for the first time. An American regimental commander told Stone: "We can expect some real trouble now."

On the western front, Allied forces surged across the Han river east of battered Seoul behind a rolling artillery barrage. Field dispatches on the action were delayed.

The assault-boat crossing of the Han followed intensive patrol action and nearly a week of bombardment of Chinese Communist positions.

General MacArthur, on his 12th flying visit to the front warned anew of a Chinese buildup for a "massive offensive." He called again for a United Nations decision on what to do about Red China's undeclared war on the Allies in Korea.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sutton, Emmitsburg R. 1, announce the birth of a son at the Warner hospital this morning.

A daughter was born Tuesday evening at the hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick White, Aspers R. 2.

USE OF STEEL IS CURTAILED BY 20 PER CENT

Washington, March 7 (AP) — The government today ordered makers of approximately 150 consumer durable goods, ranging from passenger cars to pocket knives, to use less steel. They are to be limited during the second quarter of this year to 20 per cent less than they used during the average quarter in the first half of last year.

The order puts into effect the steel cut announced Feb. 20 by Manly Fleischmann, the National Production Administrator.

Give Detail List

It lists in detail for the first time the products affected.

In addition to passenger cars, furniture, refrigerators, radios and television sets, which were mentioned in the previous policy announcement, the list includes vacuum cleaners and lawn mowers, cameras and ashtrays, private airplanes, garbage disposal units, burial caskets, and many others.

Still others listed are fans under 16 inches, floor waxers and polishers, electric mixers, domestic hot water heaters, irons, laundry equipment, phonograph record players and combinations, home and farm freezers, jewelry and cocktail shakers, games and toys and musical instruments.

69 AREA BIRTHS IN FEBRUARY

Sixty-nine births and 24 deaths occurred in the Gettysburg area during the month of February, the provisional report of Ralph Geiselman, local registrar of vital statistics disclosed today.

The February birth rate brings to 125 the number of babies born in the district, including Gettysburg, and Cumberland, Straban, Freedom and Highland townships, since the beginning of the year. One hundred twenty-seven babies were born during the first two months of 1950. There were 39 deaths in the area during the two month period, compared to 26 last year during the same period.

All sixty-nine of the births during February, 36 males and 33 females, took place in Gettysburg. Thirteen male and six female deaths took place in Gettysburg during February. One female death occurred in Cumberland township, and one male and one female death in both Straban and Highland townships. During February last year there were 61 births and 17 deaths.

Young Burglar Is Jailed In Maryland

Pleading guilty to a charge of larceny, preferred on information by State's Attorney Donald C. Sponseller, as the outgrowth of the robbery at Wagner's filling station in Taneytown on January 17, Herman Edgar Johnston, 18, formerly of Waynesboro, was sentenced Monday to serve not more than two years in the Maryland State Reformatory for Males. Chief Judge James E. Boyland, Jr., imposed the sentence in Circuit court at Westminster.

Johnston, whose mother resides at Waynesboro and whose father lives in Baltimore, was recently turned over to Carroll county officials after being freed of purse-snatching charges in Baltimore. Two girls involved in the robbery at Taneytown, recently received suspended sentences.

Detainers for Johnston are to be filed by Baltimore and Anne Arundel county authorities, who claim he was involved in breaking and entering thefts in those counties.

$300 Damage When Cars Crash Tuesday

An automobile operated by Albert P. Laughman, Jr., 19, of Hanover R. 3, ran into the rear of a car driven by Robert Aldridge, 19, also of Hanover R. 3, two and a half miles south of Cross Keys, on the Cross Keys-Hanover road, at 7:10 o'clock Tuesday evening, according to a state police report.

Police said Aldridge had come out of a side road and turned north on Route 94. Laughman was also traveling north, came over the crest of a grade, and did not see the Aldridge car in time to stop. Damage to the Aldridge car was estimated at $200 and to the Laughman car at $100. No one was injured.

Woman's Skull Is Found In Cellar

Scranton, Pa., March 7 (AP)—The decomposed skull of a woman was found today in the cellar of the former home of Charles Homeyer and State Police Sergeant Charles Santee said he believed it was part of the remains of Anna Snellman, 65, missing for more than a year.

Santee described the Snellman woman as Homeyer's common law wife. He said the suspicious neighbors led state police to the cellar of the home in nearby Factoryville, Wyoming county. They told police, Santee said, that the Snellman woman was buried in the cellar.

The skull, state police declared, was buried under the concrete flooring in the home now occupied by Carl O'Hara. He purchased the building from Homeyer six months ago.

Santee said Homeyer has told state police "conflicting stories" about the whereabouts of his wife.

The term "barbarian" is Egyptian in origin and is a term of contempt, meaning "bearded one."

Sen. James E. Murray (above) (D.-Mont.) was named in evidence developed by Senate investigators as having interceded with the RFC to make a $1,000,000 loan to a Miami Beach hotel. His son, James Murray, an attorney, was reported to have received a $21,000 fee for services in that and allied cases.

Hero of Alexandria devised a steam engine which operated by jet propulsion about the year one.

FIRE FIGHTING

a Baltimore Democrat. There was great rivalry between the two companies and there was always a race to see who could get to the fire first."

The fire fighting apparatus of the town was brought together under one roof after a carriage shop on East Middle street was sold at sheriff's sale. In 1886 the town council bought a new No. 4 Silsby or Selby steam fire engine with two hose reels. It was guaranteed to throw four streams and cost $3,600, Mr. Sheads recalled.

Tells About Firebugs

He said the present engine house was built in 1886 and told of the reorganization of the local fire company in 1902 with John B. McPherson as president, John W. Warner as chief and Dr. Henry Stewart as assistant engineer. Mr. Sheads brought his fire company history up to date by listing the local company as one of the first in the state to add short wave radio to its equipment.

Mrs. Sheads quoted "Old Time Notes of Adams County" by J. Howard Wert to recount the story of the epidemic of incendiarism in Gettysburg from 1948 to 1853 when the practice was broken up by the arrest of one man while others fled the community. The first victim of the firebugs was the Samuel Miller stable, near Evergreen cemetery, but numerous other larger blazes followed, some of them threatening the entire town.

To Hear Dr. Stevens

Gifts to the society, reported by Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, included the following from W. W. Eisenhart, Abbottstown: a copy of Mr. Eisenhart's genealogy of the John Franklin Eisenhart family; Wister's William Penn and Our Liberties and several volumes of proceedings of the Pennsylvania Folklore society; from Mrs. Lillian Stambaugh, Abbottstown, various old papers including a stock certificate of the Berlin Branch railroad company issued in 1877;, and from Paul Chronister, Hampton, through George W. Baker, Abbottstown, various old papers including a copy of the sixth census of the United States and a picture of the Hampton Democratic club; and from William G. Weaver a full-page business directory of Gettysburg published about 1900.

Dr. Henry Stewart reported considerable progress since the last meeting on gathering information for a history of the carriagemaking industry in Gettysburg. "There are still some gaps but a very respectable history of the carriage business here is being brought together."

Dr. Frederick Tilberg, program chairman, announced that Dr. S. K. Stevens, state historian, will be the speaker for April and tours are planned for the May and June meetings.

President Hugh C. McIlhenny presided at the meeting with about 30 persons present.

PIRATES HAVE ONLY TWO SURE OF POSITIONS

San Bernardino, Calif., March 7 (AP)—Outfielders Ralph Kiner and Wally Westlake, the No. 1 and 2 punch of the Pittsburgh Pirates appear the only definite starters for 1951.

Here's the way the scramble for the nine starting positions shaps up the nine starting positions shape up ing:

First base: Jack Phillips and rookie Dale Long appear the one-two selections. Then there is Eddie Stevens here, under Indianapolis influence. Ralph Kiner may also horn in on the gateway battle.

Second base: Danny Murtaugh has a scuffle on his hands with a Maryland boy—Johnny Merson, who batted .290 for New Orleans last year.

Shortstop: Stan Rojek looks like the Rojek of '48 yet clever George Strickland has won the admiration of Manager Bill Meyer.

Third base: For the first time since he became a star with the St. Louis Browns, Bob Dillinger faces a tough battle with none other than Pete Castiglione. Pete's bat is throwing off sparks.

Outfield Prospects

Left field: If Kiner moves to the infield, the post may go to Gus Bell, Tom Saffell or Pete Reiser.

Center field: Westlake is the choice. Yet Reiser also can patrol the wide pasture.

Right field: Ball hawk Ted Beard wants the job, but Saffell, Bell, Reiser, Dino Restelli and George Metkovich might have something to say about it.

Catcher: Although veteran Clyde McCullough holds the top spot, fighting Eddie Fitzgerald and Ray Mueller are around, too.

Pitchers: Southpaw Cliff Chambers and Bill Werle and righthanders Murry Dickson and Vernon Law top the list of starters. Rookies Con Dempsey, Robert Friend and Harry Fisher also feel capable. The rest of the mound corps includes Paul ($100,000) Pettit, Bill Pierro, Mel Queen, Jim Walsh, Bob Chesnes and Vic Lombardi. Some of these won't be in Pirate uniform when the umpire yells: "Play ball."

Manager: Bill Meyer, with some help from Branch Rickey, the new general manager.

Joe Walcott Out To Beat Charles

Detroit, March 7 (AP)—Old Jersey Joe Walcott, who seems to be fighting for the heavyweight title every time you look around, hopes to put a permanent crimp in the plans for a lucrative Joe Louis-Ezzard Charles return bout by whipping Charles tonight.

The odds are at least 7 to 2 against the 37-year-old Walcott's chances in this town. In New York, the bookmakers have listed it as a 5 to 1 and "out" fight. That means you can bet on Walcott but you can't wager on Charles. He's considered that much of a cinch by the odds-makers.

Yet this town is taking the 15-rounder in the Olympia stadium very seriously. Although there is practically no wagering to speak of, the customers are rushing to put their cash on the line for the fast vanishing pasteboards. And the 10 p.m. (EST) 15-rounder will be broadcast and telecast by CBS.

COEDS IN DEADLOCK

The Gettysburg and Lebanon Valley college girls' basketball teams played to a 28-28 deadlock at Annville Tuesday evening. Sue Hunsberger looped 14 points for the Bullettes while Hutchison and Edelman connected for 11 points each.

FIFTH BRIBER PICKED UP IN CAGE SCANDAL

New York, March 7 (AP)—College basketball's greatest scandal went back to its starting point early today and dug up another alleged briber—previously identified as the "mysterious Stanley."

The newest puncture to deflate the college basketball world brings to five the total number of alleged bribers or "fixers" involved in the mess.

Bronx District Attorney George B. De Luca said Soll Leon Rappaport, 25, was arrested as the "mysterious Stanley" mentioned in January, when the reported attempt to fix a Manhattan college game started the scandal ball rolling.

Since that time, in addition to the five alleged bribers, 13 players and former players at four local colleges have been accused of "dumpings" in at least 16 Madison Square Garden games over the last three seasons.

Rappaport, Brooklyn button manufacturer, was charged specifically with conspiracy and bribery in an attempted fix of a game last January 16 between Manhattan and DePaul, of Chicago.

De Luca said Rappaport and Irving Schwartzberg discussed the fix with former Manhattan star Henry Poppe the night of the game.

The two men, De Luca said, told Poppe that he should see that Manhattan lost by 11 points. Poppe, who did not play this year, is charged with offering a $1,000 "fix" bribe to Manhattan center Junius Kellogg.

Faked On Fix

However, Kellogg informed police and only pretended to go along with the fix. The result was a 62-59 Manhattan victory and the start of the cage probe.

De Luca said a detective observed the three men talking the night of the game on a street corner near Madison Square Garden. He said Rappaport also was seen inside the garden that evening.

But no arrest was made, for fear that premature action might hamper police plans, De Luca said.

Rappaport finally was taken into custody late yesterday after the detective, Howard Phelan, recognized him in the Manhattan garment district.

A man who was with Rappaport yesterday was taken into custody but later was released. De Luca would not identify him, and said he had no connection with the case.

Poppe was questioned last night along with Rappaport.

John A. Byrnes and Poppe, Manhattan co-captains last year, are to appear with Schwartzberg and two other men in Bronx county court today to have a date set for their trial on various bribery indictments.

These indictments, handled up by a Bronx grand jury, name the five variously on charges involving the DePaul attempted bribe and games played by Manhattan last year against Siena, Bradley and Santa Clara.

The other two are Schwartzberg's brother, Benjamin, and Cornelius Kelleher.

90-Cent An Hour Law Is Proposed

Harrisburg, March 7 (AP) — Pennsylvania would have a 90-cents an hour minimum wage law under terms of a bill now before the state Senate.

The bill was introduced last night by three western Pennsylvania Democrats, Sens. William J. Lane, Washington; Samuel H. Neff, Lawrence, and John J. Haluska, Cambria.

It would provide for a boost upward to a minimum of 95 cents an hour the second year after its enactment as a law and another increase to $1 an hour the third year.

The present federal minimum wage law requires payment of 75 cents an hour to all employes.

The Lane-Neff-Haluska bill also would limit the work-day to eight hours and the work-week to 44 hours with overtime pay for time beyond that.

New York, March 7 (AP) — Mr. Inside, the gent who knows about everything, sends word from Chicago that next week's voting in Florida on the election of a baseball commissioner may touch off a new feud in the White Sox official family. . . . There were reports of a disagreement after the vote to oust Happy Chandler, and Mr. I. says the situation is the same — Mrs. Grace Comiskey, the president, and her daughter, Mrs. John Rigney, are on Happy's side; but Chuck Comiskey, the son who'll cast the vote, maintains that nobody can tell him how to mark the ballot as long as he's running the team. . . . The same Mr. Inside also reports the stage is set to move next season's Notre Dame-Kentucky basketball game (always a torrid affair) into Chicago stadium as a part of the doubleheader program there. . . . Gosh, how will they persuade the NCAA that it's a "home" court?

The game already was under way when a comely young doll and her escort walked down to Rossini's seat and handed him a couple of ticket stubs. . . . Lou politely explained: "I'm not an usher; I'm coaching this team." . . . whereupon the gal looked at him scornfully and remarked: "Oh, a big shot, eh?" . . . By the end of the game, Lou was.

U. S. CASUALTIES TOTAL 52,448

Washington, March 7 (AP) — Announced American casualties in the Korean war reached 52,448 today, an increase of 1,773 in a week.

The total, representing notifications to the next of kin through March 2, included 7,857 killed in action, 34,602 wounded and 9,899 missing in action.

The wounded included 911 who died of their wounds and 85 among the missing are known dead, making a total of 8,853 deaths.

The missing figure also included 980 men who have since returned to U.S. military control and 110 known prisoners of war, leaving 8,724 currently missing.

Total army casualties rose 1,642 during the week, reaching 43,598. Navy losses increased by six to a total of 596. Marine Corps casualties were up 110 to a total of 7,838. Total air force casualties reached 416, an increase of 10 over last week.

US CINDERMEN WIN 14 TRACK CHAMPIONSHIPS

Buenos Aires, March 7 (AP) — The first Pan American games, narrowed down to swimming, boxing, and basketball, prepared to close shop entirely Friday night in a burst of pageantry and ceremonies.

By any form of reckoning, Argentina has taken the Lions share of honors. However, the United States came out on top decisively in track, which is the center of this program just as in the olympics. Uncle Sam's lads have won 14 championships and amassed 221 points on the unofficial point basis against 158 for Argentina, 51, for Brazil and Chile, and 40 for Cuba.

The huge home crowd—about 70,000—had little to cheer about yesterday, with the United States winning four track titles and Ecuador taking its first.

But Delfo Cabrera, Argentina's Olympic hero, atoned for everything. With the help of the crowd, he won the marathon.

Cabrera was an exhausted runner when he jogged into the stadium through the doorway beneath the Pan American torch. He slowed to a walk and almost stood still. But the excited fans urged him on and he completed the gruelling course 10 minutes ahead of teammate Reinaldo Gorno.

Threaten Records

It took a showpiece like the marathon to obscure the fact that two makeshift United States relay teams flirted with world records. In the 400-meter relay, with Arthur Bragg at anchor, the U. S. was timed in 41 seconds flat against the record of 39.8

But in the 1,600-meter relay, with Mal Whitfield at anchor, the team really cut loose, winning by more than 80 yards in 3:09.9

That's an average of 47.5 second per quarter—and that's plenty good. The world record is 3:08.2

In women's track the three leaders were Chile with 57 and the U.S. and Argentina both 53.

In basketball, everything points to Thursday night's game between the United States and Argentina. Both are unbeaten. The U.S. defeated Brazil, 74-42, and Argentina turned back Chile, 54-47. The Argentines, world champions, are convinced they can retain their title, but the Americans are heavy favorites to win.

In swimming, the United States has also done well, with the girls winning five out of seven events and the men, although having a tougher time, coming up with several sparkling performances, of which Dick Cleveland's 53.8-second effort in the 100-meter freestyle last night was one of the best.

The United States easily won the Women's 400-meter freestyle relay in 4:37.1, with Argentina second and Brazil third.

Argentina In Lead

Sharon Geary of Long Beach, Calif., got the team off to a beautiful start by finishing with about a four-yard lead, to which Carolyn Green of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., added another yard. Betty Mullen of Weissport, Pa., also added more yardage, as did Jacqueline La Vine of Chicago. The latter stood off a late challenge by Argentina's ace woman swimmer, Anamaria Schultz.

The unofficial point totals now stand Argentina 907, USA 688½, Chile 230, Mexico 216½, Brazil 212, Cuba 106, Peru 85, Guatemala and Trinidad 28, Ecuador 20, Colombia 19, Venezuela 16½, Jamaica 12, Panama 11, Haiti 7, Paraguay 4, Nicaragua 2½ and El Salvador 1.

Hank Belber, left, and Bob O'Brien, will appear in their last Gettysburg college basketball game tonight when the Bullets meet Muhlenberg on the local floor at 8 o'clock. Belber and O'Brien, who rate high among Bullet cage stars throughout the years, are the lone senior cagers on the squad.

Tonight's game is expected to be another thriller which would follow the pattern of Gettysburg-Muhlenberg games during the last several years. There will be no preliminary game. The Mules gained a 75-64 victory early in February at Allentown.

HUNTING TOOK 400 LIVES IN U. S. IN 1950

(By The Associated Press)

Approximately 400 persons died in hunting accidents in the United States last season during which licenses were issued to an army of hunters estimated to number more than 12,000,000.

This is the finding of an Associated Press survey, which disclosed that 340 persons died in 42 states of accidental gunshot wounds directly related to hunting.

In six states—Louisiana, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Carolina and Texas—no records are kept or the count of hunting fatalities has not been completed.

In the preceding (1949-50) hunting season accidental gunshot wounds killed at least 390 persons in 35 states.

Comparative casualty figures for earlier years are not available, but hunting pressure—on human beings as well as game—has increased remarkably since the war.

The sportsmen's magazine Outdoor Life, reports 12,626,539 licenses issued for the 1949-50 hunting season compared with 7,912,000 in 1940.

State Among Highest

Heart trouble induced by excitement or over-exertion was another major killer among the ranks of the sportsmen, but figures were not available to indicate how heavy the toll may have been.

Missouri with 30, Michigan with 23, Maine with 19 and Pennsylvania and Utah with 16 each were among the states reporting the highest gunshot casualties.

Carelessness is chiefly responsible for hunting fatalities, authorities agreed.

Most deer hunters were shot because they stepped in the line of fire or were mistaken for game.

The 1950-51 gunshot deaths, some figures incomplete, of those states reporting included:

Delaware 3, Maryland 3, New Jersey 4, New York 13, Ohio 8, Pennsylvania 16, West Virginia 8.

Tehran Premier Is Assassinated

Tehran, Iran, March 7 (AP)—American-supported Premier Ali Razmara was shot to death today in a Tehran mosque. The government of this politically turbulent neighbor of Russia immediately placed the armed forces of the nation on the alert.

(Western sources in London expressed fear that the assassination might increase the political turmoil in the oil-laden but impoverished country, which sprawls along a critical flank of Western defenses against communism.)

Apparently the people took the news calmly.

The gunman who pumped four shots into the slim, 50-year-old premier as he entered a bazaar district mosque was, seized quickly. He was identified in a communique only as "a certain man." An informed source said the killer was a member of a small, fanatical religious sect.

The cabinet went into emergency session.

Shah Mohamed Reza Pahlevi quickly called in his advisers and named 70-year-old Khalil Fahimi acting premier.

SCHOOL CAGERS GET AWARDS IN GHS ASSEMBLY

Gettysburg senior high and junior high school athletes were awarded basketball letters during the assembly program, conducted by the boys' physical education department, in the school gymnasium this morning at 11 o'clock.

Junior high awards were made by Coach Rogers Herr to Fred Baker, Peter Baughman, Raymond Creager, Paul Ketterman, George Penn, Robert Rohrbaugh, Jay Schmitt, Kenneth Smith, Ronald Williams and John Hartley, manager. —

The presentations were made followed by brief remarks by Dr. L. C. Keefauver, superintendent of schools. Arthur Aiken, of the student body, was master of ceremonies.

Prof. Conway S. Williams, of the Economics department of Gettysburg college, was assisted by Donald Young and Ronald Fitzkee, college student teachers in physical education at the high school in an exhibition in the art of fencing.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Many S.A.E. Men At Annual "Founders' Day": The seventieth anniversary of the founding of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity was observed in a glowing manner by active members and alumni of Pennsylvania Delta chapter at Gettysburg college on Saturday.

A $1,500 grand piano was dedicated to the memory of Walter Kessler, a deceased member in the spacious Lincoln avenue home of the chapter Saturday evening.

At the banquet Rev. William F. Sunday acted as toastmaster.

Countian Buys Home: Howard Ridinger has sold his new double brick house on Hanover street to John Settle, of Seven Stars. Transfer was made through C. A. Williams.

* * *

Miss Lillian Miller Is Wedded Saturday: Walter E. Trostle, Harrisburg, and Miss Lillian Miller, Gettysburg, were married Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Trosle, the Rev. George W. Hull officiating. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ericson.

* * *

Expect Crowd At C. C. Dinner: Plans have been completed for the dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg, Thursday evening, at 6 o'clock, when Robert J. Eustace, industrial commissioner of Davenport, Iowa, will be the guest of honor and speaker. The dinner is being arranged by the Chamber of Commerce.

* * *

Town Reaches "Legal Limit" Of Borrowing: Gettysburg's municipal government has borrowed up to its legal limit.

Further loans have been refused by the borough bank.

These revelations were made by William G. Weaver, borough treasurer, at the regular March meeting of council, Friday evening, and for the first time in recent years current bills were tabled because of lack of funds.

* * *

Paper Losses Said To Reach $200,000 Here: Paper losses of Gettysburgians dabbling in stocks and bonds, will run over $200,000, said a prominent local merchant, who is heavily interested in stocks and bonds. The actual figures will never be available, said the Times informant, "but many local people have been so hard hit by the decline in the market during the past few days, when caught unawares, that they are reluctant to divulge their actual losses."

A number of others, who owned their stock outright, are hoping for a return to normal prices soon and today's report from the New York Exchange is very gratifying for many.

All Records Broken: New York, March 4.—Stocks on the New York Exchange falling precipitately for the past few days have broken all records for volume and scope of a day's trading.

There still was no indication of uneasiness over the financial situation or credit of brokerage houses. Several banks inquired if aid was needed and the answer was no.

* * *

Organizer Is Here To Form Local YWCA: Steps toward the organization of a Young Women's Christian Association here are now being taken with the arrival of Miss Elizabeth S. Rogers, a secretary of the national board, New York city. Provision for the organization of a YWCA was made in the will of Mrs. Irene D. Reinwald, who left her home on Center Square and a sum of money for the permanent endowment of the property.

Under the direction of I. L. Taylor, trustee of the Reinwald property, the interior of the building has been remodeled and renovated and a side porch adds to the attractiveness.

Juniors Give Friday Program: Members of the junior class of the Gettysburg high school presented a delightful program in the assembly Friday morning. The program follows:

Saxophone solo by Ross Koons, "Song of Love."

Duet By Elizabeth Mumper and Madolyn Culp, "Love Song of the Andes."

Selection from Junior Girls' Sextette.

Selections by the Junior Male Quintet.

Recessional by the Junior chorus.

Roosevelts Are Home From Hunt: (By Associated Press) New York, March 3.—Theodore Roosevelt, who nearly lost his life in his successful hunt for the rare Ovis Poli in Central Asia is back in New York "fit for a fight or frolic."

He arrived last night aboard the Berengaria with his brother, Kermit, and their wives who helped them hunt tigers on part of the trip.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

YOUR STOMACH

Did it ever occur to you that about the best friend you have is — your Stomach? It's the fire-box of health. Nothing is quite so important as what you put into that Stomach for fuel. Every student in every school in the land should be instructed as to the physical make-up of the Stomach, its anatomy and all that concerns it. It is really a wonderfully interesting study in itself.

Whatever you put into your Stomach effects your entire body and your manner of thought. Abuse that Stomach of yours and you are sure to feel its resentment to a marked degree. There ought to be a nutrition book in every home, so that the best digestive health might be the lot of all. The clean tongue is a delight! It is more than a mere mouthpiece. It's also a barometer as to the health of this great organ the Stomach.

The old fashioned family Doctor of many years ago really had something. His most important satchel was filled with good common sense. He would no more get into the house, after a call, than he would say to his patient: "Stick out your tongue!" Then he would say under his breath — "Ah!" Not until then was he ready to go into his other bag for the pills — most of them innocent things. Then he would turn to the mother and tell her what the boy — or girl — ought to eat.

Probably the most patient and long suffering organ in the body is the Stomach. It is amazing what punishment it will put up with before it resents and revolts. Nature put her greatest Engineer to its creation for it was meant to last a long time. It does if you are kind to it. It manufacturers, and then sends out, energy to every part of the body from the fuel that is furnished to it.

There are people who take better care of their dog, horse, or car than they do of their own Stomach. Most animals refuse to eat at all when they feel ill. But we humans often ask our Stomach to do double duty then! It would be a good idea to transfer a choice section of our brain to this great and useful organ. We would then live a healthier and happier life.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Adjusting Oneself."

A grandpa is a hazard that a mother has to face.
She may love him, but she views him as a nuisance round the place.
He brings candy in his pocket which he lets the children eat
When he knows it spoils their dinner to have taken too much sweet.

He disobeys the orders and he laughs at all the rules.
"Let the parents do the teaching," he says; "grandpas should be fools."
He smiles at misbehavior at which mothers have to frown,
Saying: "Children must be children. Only grown-ups settle down."

A grandpa in his dealing has no use for discipline.
At faults which should be punished he will merely sit and grin.
And, if scolding's necessary, he just gets his coat and hat,
With a "Good bye! I am going. It's your job to handle that."

The Beginners, Primary and Junior departments of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church Sunday school will conduct a food sale on Friday afternoon, April 27, at Boyd's storeroom, East King street.

Loyalty Class Meets

Mrs. Charles Kump was in charge of the monthly meeting of the Loyalty Sunday school class of St. Paul's Lutheran church on Monday evening at the church. The scripture was read by Mrs. Kump. The group then sang, "In The Garden," with Mrs. J. Robert Sell serving as piano accompanist for the evening. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Kump.

The business session was held with president, Mrs. Charles Rabinstine, presiding. Reports were given by the assistant secretary, Mrs. Beulah Wintrode, and the treasurer, Mrs. Esther R. Wolfe. Plans were discussed for the class to serve a banquet to the Starr Bible class of the Sunday school and the class taught by the pastor, the Rev. David S. Kammerer. The banquet will be held Thursday, March 29, at 6:30 p.m. in the social hall of the church. The members of the classes, their husbands, wives and other guests will be served. The group decided to make a monthly contribution of $2 to the Christian Endeavor society of the church, for refreshments. The guess package was presented by Mrs. Ivan Kindig and received by Mrs. Emory Gitt.

The group sang, "Christ The Lord Is Risen Today." A reading, "Easter," was given by Mrs. Charles E. Ritter. Mrs. David S. Kammerer read the poem, "Spring Is Life." A vocal solo was sung by Mrs. Clinton O. Sentz, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Sell. A poem, "Easter Morn," was read by Mrs. Kump. Miss Wintrode read the poem, "If Easter Eggs Would Hatch." Two piano solos were played by Betty Zumbrum. Another vocal solo was then sung by Mrs. Sentz, accompanied by Mrs. Sell.

The meeting closed with a social hour, at which time contests were held and prizes awarded to Mrs. J. Ray Reindollar. Refreshments were served to the 34 members and one visitor present. Assisting Mrs. Kump on the March committee were Mrs. Davis S. Kammerer, Miss Beulah Wintrode, Mrs. Charles E. Ritter, Mrs. Wilmer Newman, Mrs. Guy Lookenbill, Mrs. Donald Z. Mann, Mrs. Emory Gitt, Mrs. Paul Mayers, Mrs. Clinton O. Sentz, Mrs. LeRoy W. Bish and Mrs. Stewart Hetrick. The next meeting of the class will be held Monday, April 2, at 7:30 p.m., at the church. Mrs. Carl H. Baumgardner is teacher of the class.

The annual play by the members of the Junior class of the Littlestown Junior-Senior high school will be presented on Thursday and Friday evenings at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. This year's production is entitled, "Our Miss Brooks", a three-act comedy based on the radio program of the same name. The play is under the direction of Miss LeOra L. Held of the faculty.

The character cast includes: Miss Brooks, a high school English teacher, Marie Basehoar; Miss Finch, the librarian, Dolores Rae Reindollar; Hugo Longacre, the athletic coach, Feree LeFevre; Mrs. Wadsworth, the high school principal, Helen Wintrode; Miss Audubon, the music teacher, Mary Lou Boyd; Mrs. Allen, president of the school board, Brenda Hess; Elsie, Mary Flickinger; Elaine, Phyllis Hawk; Jane, Nancy Renner; Sylvia, Shirley Warner; Doris, Betty Yealy; Marge, Beverly DeHoff; Faith, Joan Clapsaddle; Rhonda, Penny Nestor; Ted, Charles Badders; Stanley, Luther Hess; and Martin, Richard Selby. The prompter is Joyce Clapsaddle.

WILL SEND 30 STUDENTS HERE FOR FESTIVAL

Biglerville high school will have 30 participants in the annual Adams county music festival, to be held at Gettysburg college March 30, it was announced today.

The program for the concert, to be conducted by William McCord, supervisor of music at William Penn high school, Harrisburg, will include, "Washington Post March," "King Cotton," "Finiculi-Finicula," "Gold and Silver," "Night Beat," "Herbert Clarke Triumphal March," "Show Boat," "Humoresque," "Harvest Home," "National Emblem March," "El Capitan," "Morning, Noon and Night," "Tennessee Waltz" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

Students from the school who will join with student musicians from throughout the county in the festival include: Helen Slaybaugh, Shirley Heller, Gary Crum, Keith Starner, William Decker, Patsy Vanaman and Wallace Unger, clarinets; Edward Hoffman, Donald Myers, Donald Wright and Terry Hutton, cornets; Joyce Heckenluber, Thomas Zeigler and Janet Rex, saxophones; Dale Kanagy and Wayne Guise, trombones; Ann Luckenbaugh, Clara Lou Hildebrand and Dorothy Deardorff, flutes.

Douglas Taylor, Harold Tuckey and Donald Kline, French horns; Ray Lantz, baritone horn; Sarah Rice, bells; Gene Motter and Barbara Yoder, drums; Dean Starry, Garry Beidler and Maurice Pitzer, bass horns. A majorette, Barbara Geiselman, will act as one of the ushers at the concert.

More Poultry And Cattle On Farms

Reflecting the fact that Pennsylvania farmers obtain about three-fourths of their cash income from livestock and poultry and their products, the state Department of Agriculture reported substantial increases in total cattle and poultry numbers on farms January 1 compared with January 1, 1950 inventories.

Cattle and calves on Pennsylvania farms the first of the year totaled 1,808,000 head, the highest point in 56 years, federal-state surveys revealed. Chicken numbers reached an all-time high of 27,598,000. Both cattle and chickens on hand the first of this year were estimated at record total values, $323,632,000 for all cattle and $47,469,000 for all chickens.

In 1895 the total of all cattle in Pennsylvania was 1,822,000 head as of January 1. That was the last year of a consecutive period of years extending back to 1877 when numbers exceeded the 1951 estimate.

FARM CALENDAR

Improve Dairy Herds — Testing and good breeding pay. The average dairy cow in Pennsylvania produces less than 250 pounds of butterfat per year. Last year the cows in dairy herd improvement association tested herds produced an average of 370 pounds of butterfat, and more than 8,000 daughters of bulls used in artificial breeding averaged 415 pounds of butterfat, report Penn State extension dairy specialists.

Chickens Like Forage — Poultry ranges provide good feed and are healthful places for raising chickens, reminds F. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. He says that chickens get vitamins, protein, calcium, and phosphorus in the grass and legumes they eat on range.

Bees Pollinate—The busy bee is a farm laborer of great importance. W. W. Clarke, extension apiculturist of the Pennsylvania State college, says that honeybees serve as pollinators of apples, peaches, cherries, all legumes including clover, and such vegetables as cucumbers, lima beans, melons, and others.

Cut The Poor Trees — There is still time to cull the poor trees out of the farm woodlot, says W. W. Simonds, Penn State extension forester. He suggests cutting out the crooked, limby, and defective trees—the ones which will never make straight, tall timber.

Attend Short Course — A dairy cattle herdsmen's short course will be given by Pennsylvania State college, March 12 to 17. Subjects offered will include feeding, management, calf raising, soils and forage, dairy farm records, and current research results.

Buy Good Seeds — F. G. Bamer, Penn State extension agronomist, believes that farmers should be variety-conscious when buying grass and legume seeds just as they are in buying seed corn.

Hot Water Is Useful—Hot water under pressure is an essential convenience on the modern dairy farm, says I. E. Parkin, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. He recommends at least 50 gallons a day for the many uses in managed milking, washing and sanitizing dairy utensils, testing, and other operations.

Plan Farm Buildings—If you are interested in constructing any new farm buildings, you might find just the plan you need in your county agent's office, reminds C. G. Burress, extension agricultural engineer of the Pennsylvania State college. The plans are for farm houses, barns, sheds, poultry houses, corncribs, and granaries.

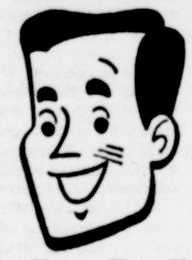

Prepare Pig Quarters — Be sure to have the pens ready before arrival of the spring pig crop, says L. C. Madison, extension livestock specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. Clean and scrub with a strong solution of lye water, and then rinse with clean water. After the floors are dry cover them with clean, short, chaffy litter.

Grow Grass And Legumes — Grassland farming, according to A. E. Cooper, Penn State extension agronomist, is important in growing valuable livestock feed, in controlling soil erosion, in building nitrogen in the soil, and in providing organic matter for the soil.

Buy Food Chicks—When you buy baby chicks you will want to know about the breeding, says H. H. Kauffman, Penn State extension poultry specialist. You will also want to know whether they are disease-free and strong, and whether they will be delivered on the promised date.

Have Plows Ready—It soon will be plowing time. Howard Bingnam, Penn State extension agricultural engineer, suggests that repairs be made now and all adjustments possible be done before the plows go into the field. Better have some extra plow shares on hand.

KITCHENETTES HOPE TO CLEAR $600 ON SHOW

Members of the Biglerville Kitchenettes today were hoping that, when all bills are paid, they will have cleared upwards of $600 on their recent revue.

More than $700 was received from sale of tickets for the production which was given twice. From that will come taxes and other costs which will lop about $100 from the income, members of the Kitchenettes said.

The hoped-for $600 plus $200 previously earned will give the organization approximately $800 toward its project of establishing a public park and playground in the borough.

Hope To Buy Land Soon

Because of the interest shown in the community, the Kitchenettes hope within the near future to have sufficient funds to begin the project with the purchase of some land on which the park and playground can be placed, it was said today.

In the meantime the Kitchenettes offered their services as an entertainment group to any organization or group that may wish the musical, dancing and singing abilities of the members. Everything earned by the group goes into the playground fund.

As a suggestion, they noted that part of the revue presented recently was Irish and they hope there might be some organization planning a St. Patrick's day program which could use the Kitchenettes to provide the entertainment.

All Are Welcome

In the meantime the Kitchenettes are carrying on other activities including the resumption of the tradition of having "bullbands" for newly wedded couples. In connection with the "bull-bands" the organization is arranging a definite program, with specially written, appropriate songs with which to serenade the newlyweds. They hope that in return the newlyweds, rather than give the members refreshments—the traditional greeting for "bullbands"—will instead drop something into the playground fund.

Monday evening, when the Kitchenettes meet for their regular session at the Biglerville high school at 7:30 o'clock the members will make arrangements for another planned activity — a visit to the county home to entertain guests there.

Officials of the Kitchenettes again stressed that any woman in the Biglerville area can join the organization, simply by dropping around at a meeting, or contacting one of the officers. "Don't wait for an invitation," they noted, "all women are welcome."

FOREIGN DEMAND FOR PA. POULTRY

Demand in foreign countries for the proved high type of light and heavy breed chicks from Pennsylvania poultry breeders continued through the last half of 1950, the state Department of Agriculture announced.

According to Dr. C. P. Bishop, director of the Bureau of Animal Industry, 19,760 baby chicks were shipped by airplane between July 1 and December 31, 1950, to 10 South American countries, the Indies and other islands, including Puerto Rico and Cuba. With the approach of spring Dr. Bishop reports increased activity. The bureau clears each shipment with examination and the issuance of health certificates showing the outgoing chicks to be free of communicable poultry diseases.

A total of 1,560 ducklings were sent during the last half of 1950, with 1,500 going to Venezuela and the remainder to North West Indies. Chick shipments include 3,400 to British West Indies, 1,200 to Chile, 200 to Cuba, 1,050 to Dominican Republic, 400 to Ecuador, 800 to Mexico, 950 to North West Indies, 600 to Panama and 9,600 to Puerto Rico.

CASHTOWN FIRE COMPANY MAY CLEAR $2,500

The Cashtown Community fire company had gross receipts of about $4,800 during its February festival, officials of the company said today.

Just what the net profit will be after all bills are paid was unknown today but the same officials said they hoped that the company would clear about $2500. Final settlement of the bills and costs of the festival is scheduled for the regular meeting of the company at the Cashtown firehall on March 20.

President Bruce Wetzel paid tribute today to all of the members and women who assisted in making the affair a success.

Plans to organize a woman's auxiliary to the fire company are developing among the women who took part in the festival, officials of the company said, adding their hope that the plans will be carried out to a successful comletion.

Because of the interest shown in square dancing at the festival and requests for a continuation of such activities, the company is holding a series of Saturday night dances "to give the young people of the community an opportunity for recreation," President Wetzel and Secretary Clarence Deardorff said. The next in the series of dances will be held Saturday night at the Cashtown fire hall.

MILK COWS HIT NEW HIGH PRICE

Livestock and poultry on farms of Pennsylvania this year had a greater on-the-farm value per head this January than a year earlier, except for turkeys, the state Department of Agriculture reports from annual surveys by the federal-state crop reporting service.

Milk cow values per head reached an all-time high.

On the first of each year a livestock inventory is made on Pennsylvania farms. In addition to numbers, average farm values per head are reported for cattle, hogs, sheep, horses, mules, chickens and turkeys.

The January 1, 1951, survey showed that top value goes to cows and heifers two years and older kept for milk production, the state average being $238 per head. This was an advance of $28 over January 1, 1950, and the highest farm value since records began in 1867. The 10-year 1940-49 January 1 average was $145 or $93 less than this year.

The average farm value of all cattle this January was $179 per head compared with $159 in January 1950 and the 10-year average of $110.

Hogs on Pennsylvania farms at the beginning of this year were worth $30.20 per head, a gain of $4.30 in the 12-month period and $9 higher than the 1940-49 average. Sheep, at $19.40 per head, were up $5.60 and were more than twice the 10-year average value at the farm.

BIGLER HIGH GLEE CLUB TO GIVE "CHIMES OF NORMANDY"

"The Chimes of Normandy," a light opera in two acts, will be presented Thursday, March 15, in the memorial auditorium at the South Mountain fair grounds by the Biglerville senior high school glee club.

Charles L. Yost, principal of the high school, who has been in charge of similar programs during the past 18 years, will direct the opera by Robert J. Planquette, which was presented once before, in 1940, by a Biglerville high glee club.

Other Leading Roles

Edward Hoffman will portray "Gaspard," a miser, in the production. Margaret Orner will have the part of "Germaine," Gaspar's daughter. John Jacobs will take the part of "The Magistrate" and Richard Cline will play "Grenicheaux," a sailor whom "Germaine" wishes to marry because she believes he saved her from drowning.

Donald Myers will take the part of "Henri, Count de Corneville," who has returned from exile and to whom "Germaine" becomes a servant. Others portraying parts include Joyce Arnold as "Serpolette"; Joanne Blocher, "Gertrude" and Shirley Bittinger, "Mariette."

The operetta, one of 25 written by Planquette, was first produced at the Folies Dramatiques in Paris on April 19, 1897, and ran for more than 400 performances.

Scene of the operetta is Normandy, France, during the reign of Louis XV, in a small, old fashioned village. Since the action takes place during a period when the annual fair is held, there are a number of dances. There are five choruses, men, servants, coachman, maid servents and maidens and in addition, special dances will be presented by Betty Lawver, Linda Kooken, Anna Rita Heiges, Mary Ellen Crawford, Barbara Lawver, Clair Lou Hildebrand, Jane Longenecker, Ann Frederick and Caroline Dillion. Barbara Yoder will provide piano accompaniment.

Television tubes require steel to be attached to glass and a special steel is used which expands and contracts at almost the same rate as the glass.

How To Grow Strawberries

Every gardener or farmer who plans to plant strawberries this spring should write the editor at once, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope, for a free copy of our general planting and management instructions. Plants should be set out as early as soils can be properly prepared. Ask for your copy of this guide today and include all the general garden questions you wish to ask.

JAYCEES WILL ELECT OFFICERS

Nomination of officers was held at the semi-monthly meeting of the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening at Schottie's hotel. Nominations were made as follows: President, John Kershner and Donald Z. Mann; vice president, Harold Harner and Robert H. Miller; secretary, John Kershner; treasurer, Ray T. Harner and Harold O. Sentz; and directors, Donald Z. Mann, Marvin F. Breighner, Paul Mayers, Lavere A. Breighner, Harold Harner and J. Robert Sell. Nominations will remain open until the next meeting.

The meeting was in charge of the president, Ralph R. Ruggles, Jr. The group decided to sponsor a twin-bill basketball game on Tuesday evening, March 13, in the auditorium of the Littlestown Junior-Senior high school auditorium. Tickets may be secured from any member of the Jaycees or at the door the night of the game for 30 cents for an adult ticket or 15 cents for a child's ticket. The Junior Chamber will sponsor a public roller skating party on Friday evening, March 30, from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock at Basehoar's restaurant, North Queen street. The committee in charge of arrangements for the affair is composed of Harold O. Sentz, chairman, Ray T. Harner and Paul Mayers. Tickets may be secured from any member of the Jaycees or at Marvin's Cut Rate store for 50 cents apiece. The organization will hold a food sale on Saturday morning, April 14, at Boyd's storeroom, East King street. The group voted the following contributions: $5 to the Heart fund and $5 to the Red Cross drive.

A final report was not presented on the basketball games sponsored by the Jaycees on Saturday evening at the high school auditorium. In the preliminary game the Taneytown sextet beat the Littlestown girls, 31-26. In the feature game the Jaycees defeated the Littlestown high school faculty, 72-43. A fair-sized crowd witnessed the game. The proceeds were for the benefit of the high school band uniform fund and the community betterment fund of the Jaycees. This was the second event sponsored by the Jaycees for the benefit of the uniform fund. A complete financial report from the last game will be presented at the next meeting of the organization.

To Elect March 19

Election of officers will be held at the next meeting on Monday, March 19, in the banquet hall of Schottie's hotel. It is hoped that a guest speaker may be secured for this meeting by Richard Livingston, chairman of the Hoover report for Adams county. If a speaker will be present the business meeting will be held at 7 p.m. and the speaker will be heard at 8 p.m. and the public is invited to attend.

"Growing Like Jesus—In Wisdom and Stature" was the topic of discussion at the weekly meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of St. Paul's Lutheran church on Sunday evening at the social hall of the church. The scripture was read by Patricia Long, followed with prayer offered by the pastor, the Rev. David S. Kammerer. The topic discussion was led by Evelyn Dickinson, leader for the evening. A brief business session was held with Vice President Evelyn Dickinson in charge. Dolores Rae Reindollar will be the leader for the meeting of the society next Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at the church. "Growing Like Jesus—In Favor With Man" will be the topic for discussion.

Sgt. and Mrs. John Hanshaw, of Advance Air Force Base, Enid, Okla., are spending several days at the home of Mrs. Hanshaw's mother, Mrs. Edith Bunty, near Littlestown. She will remain with her mother, who is ill and Sgt. Hanshaw will return to Oklahoma.

Sunday guests of Mrs. Edwin Elder, Jr., and children, Edwin III and Jacqueline, at the home of Mrs. Elder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice C. Wareheim, Park avenue, were Mr. and Mrs. George L. Hoffacker and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Staines of Baltimore.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Philip Arthur, young son of the Rev. and Mrs. Alton M. Leister, of the Reformed parsonage, is recovering from his recent serious illness. The baby was threatened with pneumonia.

A daughter, their eighth child, was born during the past week to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jacobs. Mrs. Jacobs was formerly Miss Jean Custer, Lancaster. Six of their eight children are sons.

The Rev. Robert Knechel, Gettysburg, led a study session in doctrine and devotion at the Bermudian Church of the Brethren near here on Monday evening where a session was also given for the children under Mrs. Dotter, York.

The condition of Mrs. Ira. A. Eisenhart R. 3, who has been a surgical patient at the Warner hospital, is considered serious.

A marriage license was issued at York last week to Donald Eugene Mickley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mickley, West York, formerly of here, who will marry Miss Peggy Jacqueline Foltz, York R. 1.

Improvement is reported in the condition of Lester E. Brown, rural mail carrier for R. 1, who has been under treatment at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, for an arthritis condition which has disabled him for several month. His wife, formerly Miss Mary Ida Mummert, has been staying in Baltimore during his hospitalization.

The Rev. J. H. Hege, pastor of a Dover Lutheran charge is scheduled to be guest speaker tonight at a Lenten service at Trinity Lutheran church.

A marriage license has been issued to Miss Ruth Irene Heindel, Hanover, to H. Walter Sarbaugh, Hanover, whose mother, Mrs. Mary Walter Sarbaugh, formerly resided here.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Jacobs, near here, entertained the Men's and Women's organizations of the Bermudian Church of the Brethren at their home during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Chapman, with his mother, Mrs. William Chapman, Dillsburg, were recently entertained by Mrs. Chapman's sister, Mrs. Paul Lerew, Sr., and family.

The mite society of Zwingli Reformed church report that their recent turkey supper for the benefit of the church was highly successful with about 500 meals served.

The Rev. Ralph R. Kunkel, evangelist of the Church of the Nazarene is conducting a series of revivals in the Regent theater building, Littlestown. The Rev. Mr. Kunkel, a son of Mrs. Garcia Bechtel Kunkel, R. 3, has been conducting revivals in many different denominations throughout the U. S. and Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wehler, she formerly Miss Janet M. Wolf, this place, have moved from York to Franklintown, his former home. Mr. Wehler is able to be about with crutches after his recent auto crash which demolished his car and seriously injured his foot.

Mrs. Allen H. Menges, who recently underwent an operation at the Warner hospital can now be about her home although she has not entirely recovered. Her mother, Mrs. Ellen S. King, who spent some time at her home, has left for the home of other relatives in Harrisburg.

Mrs. George L. Butt, with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Sealcox, and two sons, of Chester, were recent visitors of friends and relatives here. Mrs. Butt's husband is a native of this place, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butt.

Local Girl Scouts conducted a successful drive on Saturday for the collection of scrap paper from townspeople. High school boys assisted the girls in the loading of the paper onto a truck and in taking the paper to where it could be sold for the benefit of the troop.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cox and daughter, Mary, who left here last year to make their home near York, visited during the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Gross and daughters, Maxine and Judy.

The first application for a commercial television broadcast license was filed in 1939 by the Milwaukee, Wis., Journal, which now owns WTMJ-TV.

Will Make Cement Out Of Clam Shells

Allentown, Pa., March 7 (AP)—Make cement out of clam shells?

The Lehigh Portland Cement company, says it can be done and is ready to build an $11,000,000 plant in Florida to exploit its claim.

Joseph S. Young, Lehigh Portland's president, said yesterday that new plant will be erected near Flagler Beach, 80 miles south of Jacksonville, where the country's largest deposit of Coquina clam shells has been discovered.

The new plant employing a process that took three years of research to develop is expected to be in full production about the middle of 1952, Young said.

There are enough shells in the deposit to produce 1,400,000 barrels of cement a year for many years before it will be necessary to revert to limestone as a base, the Lehigh Portland president said.

FUTURE BRIGHT FOR BOB SMITH

Washington, March 7 (AP)—There's a future for Pfc. Robert L. Smith just about as sunny as it can be for a young man who lost both hands and both feet in the searing cold of North Korea.

It's a future peopled with pretty girls who have written proposals of marriage to him; secured financially with a $100,000 trust fund, and warmed by the thought of a little business of his own with his brother.

Perhaps best of all, 20-year-old Bob Smith, of Middleburg, Pa., can confidently look forward to doing for himself almost all the things people with their own hands and feet can do. And, very important for his future is something the hell-cold of Korea did not take from him along with his limbs — the good cheer with which he looks out on life.

It was last November when Bob, downed by a wound, lay in an icy ditch of a North Korean village until his hands and feet froze past saving. The army flew him here late in December.

Since then a world of friendly people have come to him, in person or by letter, at the Army Medical center. And Bob, a thin, black-haired boy, has travelled far on the road back to the world of normal people.

Mixed in with the thousands of letters, post cards and telegrams addressed to him, he disclosed shyly in an interview, were "quite a few" proposals. Some of the girls included photographs.

New Oxford

New Oxford — Thomas Spiegelmire, Jr., a former resident of this place when he was a high school student, and who is now serving in the army air force at Mitchell Field, N. Y., was a visitor to local friends last week.

John E. George, proprietor of the Cross Keys Diner near town, is able to attend his duties again after a long period of disablement, part of the time in the hospital, due to a fractured spine sustained when he fell from a horse that took fright during the local Halloween parade.

Mrs. Lynne W. Grove has recovered from a recent illness and was able to spend several days in New York last week.

The council of the First Lutheran church met at the church building March 2 for their regular monthly session.

Mrs. Joseph S. Kuhn, R. 1, visited during the past week in Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Randolph Staub recently announced the birth of a daughter, Virginia Ann.

Craig, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Duttera, has been confined to his home by illness.

M. M. Sharrer, New Chester, entertained at a meeting at his home for the council of the nearby Pines Lutheran church.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Topper, near town, recently became the parents of a son, Stephen Joseph.

Miss Regina E. Mummert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Mummert, near town, entertained at two parties recently at her home in observance of family anniversaries. The first was in honor of her brother, Gerald, who marked his eighteenth birthday and was in the form of a young people's dance. Guests were: The Misses Alliene Krug, Mary Wolf, Janet Hoffheins, Betty Kessel, Edith Kinneman, Jane Korver, Patsy Leib, Louise Crawford, Pauline Topper, Dorothy Topper, and Yvonne Richstein; and Merle Long, Robert Sowers, Roy Aldridge, Jerry Berwager, Leonard Wentz, Dean Nace, Edward Knepper, Fred Richstein, Larry and Stanley Mummert and Ben Millar.

The second, a canasta party, was given in celebration of the 22nd wedding anniversary of Miss Mummert's parents, and assisting in entertaining were Gerald, Larry and Stanley Mummert, and Mrs. Raymond Herman. Also honored at the party were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Staub, who marked their 10th wedding anniversary. Other guests were Mary and John Herman, and Joan and Barbara Staub.

Leader-Training Course Announced

For those interested in forming and leading a Great Books discussion group in their community or organization, the Great Books Foundation of the University of Chicago, in cooperation with the Friends of the Harrisburg library will offer a Leader-Training course beginning Tuesday, March 13 at the Harrisburg library, from 8 to 10 in the evening. It will continue for seven successive Tuesdays. At each meeting there will be a discussion of a great work read by all in advance. Three of the meetings will be led by the Foundation's regional director and a staff member to demonstrate the art of provoking a lively discussion; at the other five meetings, each individual will have an opportunity to get experience in leading, the Foundation representatives being present to offer criticism and suggestions.

There will be no tuition charges or registration fees. Those interested in receiving this training may obtain information from the Harrisburg Public library.

Propose 60 M.P.H. Zones On Highways

Harrisburg, March 7 (AP) — A bill to establish 60-mile-an-hour speed zones along Pennsylvania highways was before the House today.

The 60-mile speed zones would be established along roads outside of residential and business areas.

Such speed zones would be marked at one-eighth mile intervals with signs denoting that the normal 50-mile-an-hour speed limit could be increased in such areas.

The bill was offered yesterday by Reps. Robert F. Kent (R-Crawford) and Harold G. Wescott (R-Susquehanna.)

Mind Your Own Business

Washington, March 7 (AP) — A congressman can be just too helpful, Rep. Belcher (R.-Okla.) decided today.

Without mentioning any names, he related in a weekly news letter to constituents that one of his colleagues went to the aid of a woman who said her serviceman husband was desperately needed at home.

The representative "cut his way through a mountain of red tape and got her man returned to her," Belcher wrote, and he continued:

"He was rewarded by an acid letter from the husband, who informed his congressman that he had joined the army to get away from his wife, and would he in the future please mind his own business."

Refuse To Stop Lattimore Speech

Baltimore, March 7 (AP) — Baltimore's city school commissioners yesterday turned down a city council resolution asking that Owen Lattimore be prohibited from addressing a high school assembly today.

Lattimore figured prominently among those named by Senator Joseph McCarthy (R.-Wis.) in charges that Communists infest the State Department.

"We do not agree with the suggestion that high school students should be shielded from all controversial subjects and personalities," the school board's resolution said.

"Mr. Lattimore has not been found guilty (of disloyalty) by any responsible agency."

SURVEY SITE FOR DEFENSE

Washington, March 7 (AP)—A survey of an 800-acre site for a defense facility near Greencastle, Pa., is nearing completion, the army engineers said today.

The engineers' Washington district office said acquisition of land will begin within the next 30 to 60 days and will be handled by the corps of engineers.

The engineer spokesman told a reporter security measures prohibit disclosure of the nature of the facility.

The site, he said, is between Leitersburg road, Ridge road and Route 11.

He said about nine property owners will be affected by the project and that army representatives who have been in the area for some time have contacted most of them.

"Army officials do not believe that it will be necessary for any of the homes in the area to be vacated on short notice," the spokesman said.

"They also state that farming operations on the site may not be greatly affected before fall."

ECLIPSE OF SUN TODAY

Philadelphia, March 7 (AP) — The first eclipse of the sun this year takes place late this afternoon when the moon will cover about 20 per cent of its diameter. D. I. M. Levitt, director of the Fels Planetarium, said the eclipse will begin at 5:06 p.m. (EST) and reach its maximum phase 38 minutes later.

IF YOU DON'T FEEL GOOD

Don't Put Off Finding Relief

HADACOL May Bring the Relief You Are Seeking If Your Condition Is Due to Lack of Vitamins B, B, Niacin and Iron.

Luther Harris

If more folks would remember the old saying, "Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today," there's no telling how much better off they'd all be. And the worst thing about it all is that folks usually put off the most important things until a later date. For instance, there are a lot of folks who don't feel like they should who put off doing something about it. Luther Harris, 516 Chestnut St., Bowling Green, Kentucky, didn't feel good for a time, but he acted when he heard how HADACOL was helping people suffering from nervousness, aches and pains and run-down conditions caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. Yes, Mr. Harris started taking HADACOL and now he says he feels good.

Here is what he says:

"For quite some time I was nervous and run-down, and I suffered from aches and pains. I was weak, and I could hardly do a day's work. I started taking HADACOL and from my first bottle I felt better. Now I feel good, and I can do a good day's work. I am still taking HADACOL and I wouldn't do without it. I praise HADACOL very highly."

HADACOL Attacks Real Cause

Remember, HADACOL is not a quick-acting product that only attacks the symptoms of your ailments, but actually relieves the real cause of these disturbances when due to such deficiencies.

Judge Woodside Takes State Oath

Harrisburg, March 7 (AP)—Robert O. Woodside, former state representative and Dauphin county judge, took the oath of office today as attorney general of Pennsylvania.

Woodside, 46, was administered the oath in the state House of Representatives where he served for nearly ten years, the last four as majority and minority floor leader successively.

Woodside was escorted to the House by Gov. John S. Fine who named him as attorney general to succeed Charles J. Margiotti of Pittsburgh.

Margiotti resigned from the office last week after Democrats blocked Fine's entire cabinet for six weeks in an effort to end Margiotti's continuance as attorney general.

Senate Vote Near On Manpower Bills

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Senators faced a decision today on fixing a manpower ceiling for the armed forces and then hoped to iron out other details of the proposed universal military training and service program (UMTS).

Many lawmakers expected a limit of 3,500,000 to be put on the combined army, air force, navy and marines. That is the goal President Truman has fixed as desirable.

The choices offered after hours of hot-tempered debate last night were no ceiling, or 3,500,000 or 4,000,000.

The first transcontinental telegraph line was completed in 1861.

DON'T BE TOO FINICKY WITH WAR DEFENSES SAYS OBSERVER

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The text for today is: "If we are forced into war, let's not be too finicky about the methods we use in defense, so long as we stay within the laws of civilized warfare" (whatever that is).

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army in Korea, remarked the other day while touring the battle zone:

"We have only one objective—kill Chinese and save ourselves."

That sounds tough — and it is tough. But it's the essence of every commander's task. Probably General Ridgway would be glad to be able to substitute the expression "put out of action" for "kill." But the fact remains that war involves killing, and it's either you or the other fellow.

Use of A-Bomb

That brings us up to the killingest weapon man has invented — the atomic bomb. Many are the pros and cons used in argument over the extent to which this destructive instrument should be used. Is the wiping out of whole cities with their populations justifiable in defensive war?

One of the finest military analyses I've seen on this subject comes, not from a soldier but from a scientist—Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie Institute of Washington. He was director of the Office of Scientific Research and Development during the war. This office organized the labors that produced the atomic bomb.

Dr. Bush gave his analysis in a speech on "The Atomic Bomb and the Defense of the Free World." His address was delivered in Washington under auspices of the "Committee on the Present Danger," in cooperation with the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Strong Ground Defenses

The scientist's thesis was that another world war could be prevented through maintenance of strong ground defenses by the western world, coupled with the development of the atomic bomb. Said he:

"If Russia sent its armies rolling across the German plains tomorrow, we, with our A-bombs and the planes to carry them, would destroy Russia. We could do it without question, as matters stand today. . . .

"The answer to this is that the armes would not roll."

However, Dr. Bush pointed out that we can't depend indefinitely on strategic bombing as sole means of preventing Russian aggression. We must have strong ground forces in Europe to hold back an attacking army, while we strike in other ways.

Study Report On Lost Federal Aid

Harrisburg, March 7 (AP) — The General Assembly today considered a report which said Pennsylvania lost $37,000,000 in federal aid for blind pensions in 13 years by not conforming with federal regulations.

The report, compiled by the joint state government commission after a two-year study, was handed to the assembly yesterday.

The research showed, however, that a change in federal allocation of such funds will make the Commonwealth eligible for some federal aid.

The commission took no stand on proposed legislation which would increase monthly pensions by $10 to a high of $50, for 15,000 persons in the state.

Dr. Paul H. Wueller, associate commission director in charge of research and statistics said the state receives no federal aid "because pensions are given on the basis of mere blindness and not just to needy blind."

Propose Turnpike Pushed To Jersey

Harrisburg, March 7 (AP) — The General Assembly today considered a bill to extend the Pennsylvania Turnpike to the Delaware river.

The bill was introduced in the Senate last night by Sen. Henry J. Propert (R.-Montgomery) and Sen John H. Dent (D.-Westmoreland). The measure also calls for construction of a bridge across the river to join the New Jersey highways system.

Present terminus of the eastern extension of the turnpike is at King of Prussia, about 20 miles northwest of Philadelphia.

The new extension would run through Montgomery county with the exact route left to highway engineers. Extension to the river would complete the turnpike from the Ohio border to New Jersey.

A 67-mile western extension from Irvin, near Pittsburgh, to the Ohio border near Petersburg, Ohio, is now under construction.

Prepare Charts Of Ceilings On Meat

York, Pa., March 7 (AP)—The government is preparing charts to show housewives the retail price ceilings of meat, a meat dealers association official said last night.

Charles Bauer, president of the National Meat Dealers association, told a meeting the retail price charts for pork would be ready for distribution "within three weeks."

Charts for beef and other meats will follow later, Bauer told a meeting of the York County Meat Dealers association.

At the same time, he urged that price controls be placed "on all phases of meat production and distribution."

"The only way controls will work is if they are imposed at all levels, including wages," Bauer told the meeting.

INSTRUCTIONS NECESSARY FOR USE OF "1040"

(Editor's note: This is the eleventh of 12 stories explaining who must do what about his 1950 income tax return.)

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Mar. 7 (AP) — Before you even start to make out your 1950 income tax return on the 1040 long form, there is one thing you must have. You can't work without it.

That's the instruction sheet which goes with the 1040 long form. It's a 16-page government booklet explaining how to figure your tax. If you don't have it, get it.

On the back is the tax rate schedule to see what the tax rate is on your particular income.

And remember, before you send your return to the collector, attach to it any form W-2, the withholding receipt, given you by a boss for taxes withheld from you in 1950.

You must pay in full any tax still owed when you file the return. If you write a check for the amount, make it payable to the "internal revenue collector" for your district.

If for any reason you were overtaxed in 1950, indicate that on line 8, page 1. If you want a refund, indicate that on line 8. The collector will send it to you.

Joint Returns

Under the law when husband and wife file a joint return, they split their income, each claiming half even though one of them had no income. This throws each half into a lower bracket to make the total tax smaller.

When one partner in a marriage had no income, a couple can't lose by filing a joint return. Sometimes when both had income, a couple will lose by filing jointly and save by filing separately.

So where husband and wife both had income it would be wise for them to figure out their tax both ways, as a joint return and in separate returns, to see which gives them the smaller tax.

Here's an ABC of filing a return on the 1040 long form.

Jones is married, with two schoolboy sons. His income was $11,000. His wife had none. Before he starts filling out his return he must be sure of his deductions and exemptions.

Deductions — A married couple, filing jointly on the long form, are allowed a standard deduction of 10 percent of their income up to a limit of $1,000 in deductions for things like medical expenses, charitable contributions, and so on. Whether or not their deductions amounted to that much, they don't have to itemize.

If they want to claim more than that maximum $1,000, they must itemize their deductions in full.

It's different when a married couple fails to file jointly. If their income was $5,000 or more and one of them had no income and fails to file, the other, filing separately, gets a standard deduction of $500 and no more. If he wants to claim more than $500, he must itemize.

It's still different for a single person who had $5,000 or more income. When he files his return he gets—like a married couple filing jointly—a standard deduction of 10 per cent of his income up to a maximum of $1,000.

So return to Jones. He opens up his 1040 long form to page 3 and on line 1 enters his total income, $11,000. He's filing a joint return with his wife, who had no income.

Since his deductions didn't actually amount to $1,000, but he's allowed a standard deduction of $1,000, he enters that $1,000 on line 2.

Subtracting the $1,000 from the $11,000, he puts the result, $10,000, on line 3. That's called his net income.

On line 4 he must decide on his exemptions, since for each exemption he can deduct $600 from that net income of $10,000 before what's left can be taxed.

His wife had no income, so he claims $600 for her, plus $600 for himself, since everyone filing a return gets a $600 exemption. So far he has $1,200 in exemptions. What of his two schoolboy sons? He's supporting them and sending them through school. Both worked during summer vacation and both earned money. They were dependent on him. Can he claim both as exemptions?

Additional Provisions

In his particular case he can claim an exemption for only one son. That one worked but earned less than $500. The other earned more than $500 but less than $600.

(No one has to file a return unless he earned $600 or more but no one who earned $500 or more can be claimed as a dependent even though you contributed to more than half that person's support.)

So Jones winds up with $1,800 in exemptions, $600 for himself, $600 for his wife, $600 for one son. He enters the $1,800 on line 4, subtracts it for the net income of $10,000 on line 3, and winds up on line 5 with $8,200, as it says to do so on line 5, which can be taxed.

Since this is a joint return, skip to line 9. Jones splits his taxable $8,2000, as it says to do on line 5, and writes the result there, $4,100.

Then he gets out the 16-page instruction sheet mentioned earlier, turns to page 16, and figures out the tax on $4,100. It's $866. He enters that on line 10.

Then he follows insructions on line 11 (item B) and enters the result on line 11. It's $93.94. Subtracting line 11 ($93.94) from line 10 ($866), he writes the result, $722.06, on line 12.

Line 13 tells him to multiply the $722.06 on line 12 by two. The result: $1,544.12. He writes that on line 13. And that's his total tax for 1950.

Increased In October

Then he returns to page 1, being careful to list only one of his sons as an exemption, since he couldn't claim the other. And on page 1 he follows the questions, answering each as he comes to it.

Down on line 6 he lists the amount of tax he paid the government during 1950. (Some of that tax he paid was withheld from him by his boss and some he paid in quarterly installments on his estimated tax.)

He finds he paid the government altogether only $1,450 in 1950 and still owes $94.12 since his total tax, explained above, is $1,544.12. So he sends the collector a check for $94.12, attached to form 1040, together with form W-2, the withholding receipt given him by his boss for the tax withheld from him in 1950.

You may notice the figures in the formula for figuring your 1950 income tax on the 1040 long form are a little different from the formula figures you used on form 1040 last year in making your return on 1949 income. That's because the tax was raised a bit, starting in October.

You use the formula in the same way. It's just the figures which are a little different to take care of the tax increase.

Next: The estimated tax problem.

FIRE AUXILIARY MEETS MONDAY

The monthly meeting of the Alpha Fire company No. 1 Auxiliary held on Monday evening at the engine house was in charge of the president, Mrs. Mary Arnold. The meeting opened with the group singing the first stanza of "America" followed with the Lord's Prayer. The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Odetta Strevig. The group discussed having the by-laws of the auxiliary printed in booklet form but no definite plans were made and the matter will be discussed further at the April meeting. The members of the auxiliary decided to ask the assistance of the fire company in making the necessary repairs to the piano at the engine hall or investigating the purchase of a second-hand piano. Mrs. Evelyn Basehoar was appointed to contact a member of the company concerning this matter. In cooperation with the Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity, the auxiliary decided to conduct an imaginary food sale in connection with the April meeting for the benefit of the uniform fund, for the purchase of new uniforms for the Littlestown Junior-Senior high school band. One new member was received on Monday evening, Mrs. Carmen Slick. The business meeting was closed with the group singing, "Bless Be the Tie That Binds."

A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served to the 19 members present by the committee composed of Mrs. Ruth Sneeringer, chairman, Mrs. Violet Shildt, Mrs. Genevieve Miller and Mrs. Marie Recard. The next meeting of the auxiliary will be held Monday, April 2, at 8 p.m., at the engine house, in the form of a hat social. The refreshment and entertainment committee for this meeting is composed of Mrs. Mary Selby, chairman, Mrs. Helen Oaster, Mrs. Annabel Ohler and Mrs. Mary Wolfe.

The regular meeting of the Littlestown Boy Scout troop No. 84 will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the basement of the Littletown State bank building. First aid will be the theme of the March meetings.

Mrs. Preston H. Myers, M street, will be hostess to the Alta Hummer Missionary society of St. John's Lutheran church for the regular monthly meeting on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Harry O. Harner will be the leader.

Father-Son Banquet Held

The annual father and son banquet of St. Mary's Lutheran church was held Tuesday evening in the parish hall. The Rev. Glenn Stahl, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, Taneytown, was the guest speaker. The Rev. Mr. Stahl was introduced by the toastmaster, Robert Seibel. The program also consisted of the showing several film strips. Prizes were awarded to the following: Frank Leppo, the oldest father present; Marvin Snyder, the youngest son present; and to Roy Snyder, the father having the most sons present, five. The turkey dinner was served by the ladies of the congregation. The arrangement committee was composed of Leon Leppo, Harvey Bowersox and Robert Seibel. The Rev. Dr. Frederick R. Seibel is pastor of the congregation.

Mrs. Joseph Bucher, East King street, will have public sale of her household furnishings at her home on Saturday, March 17. Mrs. Bucher recently sold her home to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Plunkert, North Queen street.

Littlestown

Littlestown — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Myers, South Queen street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jean E. Myers, to Robert W. Baughman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Baughman, West King street. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Angle and son, Mike, of Shippensburg, visited on Sunday at the home of Mrs. Angle's aunt, Mrs. John Mehring, Lumber street.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Bernard Cornell, Littlestown, have purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Spangler, 370 East King street. The sale was made through Stanley R. Sell, local real estate agent.

Everett Feeser, a student at Kutztown State Teachers' college, spent the week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Everett Feeser, Lumber street.

Sunday evening dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Altoff and family and Mrs. Altoff's mother, Mrs. Thomas O. Weaver, East Myrtle street, were Mrs. Altoff's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Weaver, sons, Michael and Dale, Jr., Westminster, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shriver, daughters, Doris, Linda and Ann, Lancaster, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. Shriver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Shriver, East King street. Mr. Shriver, who is recuperating from an operation of several weeks ago, is confined to his home and is steadily improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Ekdahl, of Wayne, were week-end visitors at the home of Mrs. Ekdahl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luke H. Jacobs, East King street, and Mrs. Ekdahl's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. G. Richard Knipple and family, East King street.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Hilkemeier, South Queen street extended, entertained at dinner on Sunday in honor of the eighth birthday anniversary of their daughter, Ellen, which occurred last Thursday. Those present were the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Breighner, Walnut street, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crouse, children Richard and Susan, York, and Mr. and Mrs. William Kridler, son Terry, Pikesville, Md.

Joan Frances Long, infant daughter of Stewart Ness and Frances Sneeringer Long, East King street, was baptized Sunday morning at St. Aloysius Catholic church by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. Edward J. Shanahan. The child was born February 15, at the Warner hospital, Gettysburg. The baptismal sponsors were the maternal aunt and uncle of the child, Miss Rita C. Sneeringer and Clement A. Sneeringer, both of Littlestown.

Boarding Home Bill Is Studied

Harrisburg, March 7 (AP) — A bill which could force many counties to spend millions in providing special care for orphans and old people went back to a House committee Tuesday for further study.

The bill would bring all boarding homes in Pennsylvania under state regulation.

The measure was recommitted to the House Welfare committee last night at the request of Rep. Adam T. Bower (R-Northumberland). Bower said later he would fight any further attempt to bring it to the floor.

Bower said if the bill became law it could cause many counties now caring for their orphans and old people through use of boarding homes, to set up county-operated homes at great cost.

STRABAN FILES ANNUAL REPORT

Straban township ended 1950 with a balance of $10,329.04, according to its annual report filed with the county clerk of courts.

The report shows that the township began 1950 with a balance of $6,289.47, and received an income of $4,325.21 from taxes, $600 from liquor and beer tax, $1,568.50 from fines, $4,340.12 state aid, $1,265.25 county aid, and other small miscellaneous sums making the total income and balance $18,421.60. Expenditures included $710.07 for general government, $7,220.91 for highways, and $161.58, micellaneous, making the total outlay $8,092.56.

The organization of township boards as disclosed by the report is as follows: supervisors, J. Monroe Nell, chairman; John L. Stock, secretary-treasurer; James E. Ford and Robert Trimmer, members; auditors, John K. Lott, chairman; Walter E. Coshun, secretary.

Washington, March 6 (AP) — Investigating senators have agreed to keep secret the names of their colleagues who may have accepted free vacation stays at the swank Saxony hotel in Miami Beach, Fla., where the cheapest room is $30 a day.

The name of one senator already had been mentioned, although not in that connection, in a Senate Banking subcommittee's inquiry into charges of political influence in loans made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC).

News Briefs

Harrisburg, Mar. 7 (AP)—The commonwealth would be required to provide sodium flouride for the treatment of the public water supplies in Pennsylvania under a bill now before the senate.

"Experiments have shown that tooth decay among children has dropped as much as 60 per cent where water supplies have been treated with this chemical," said Sen. George M. Leader (D.-York), sponsor of the bill.

Harrisburg, March 7 (AP) — James E. Sourbeer, 24, former Harrisburg bank clerk, started serving a prison term Tuesday of three to 10 years on charges of embezzling more than $22,000 in bank funds.

Sourbeer pleaded guilty in Dauphin county court yesterday to several charges in the case and was sentenced by Judge Paul G. Smith. A condition of the sentence was that he make restitution of $22,186 to the Dauphin Deposit Trust company, Harrisburg.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 7 (AP) — The widow and six children of a soldier killed in the troop train wreck at Coshocton, Ohio, last September will receive $50,000 from the Pennsylvania railroad.

Under agreement approved by the court Monday, $12,500 will go to Mrs. Marie Norton, widow of Recruit Charles Norton, 37. The couple's children each will receive $5,000 to be held in trust by a Wilkes-barre bank. They range in age from one to 10 years.

Harrisburg, March 7 (AP)—The administration was reported today investigating the possibility of imposing a state tax on federal income taxes paid by Pennsylvanians.

Speaker Herbert P. Sorg (R.-Elk) said the unique taxing method may be introduced in the general assembly if the State Justice department passes on its constitutionality.

Harrisburg, March 7 (AP) — Child prodigies would be exempt from the present minimum age limit for admission to public schools under a bill before the House Tuesday.

Instead child prodigies could be admitted at any age under the present five year, seven month minimum if they obtained a special certificate.

Telephone expansion doesn't just "HAPPEN"

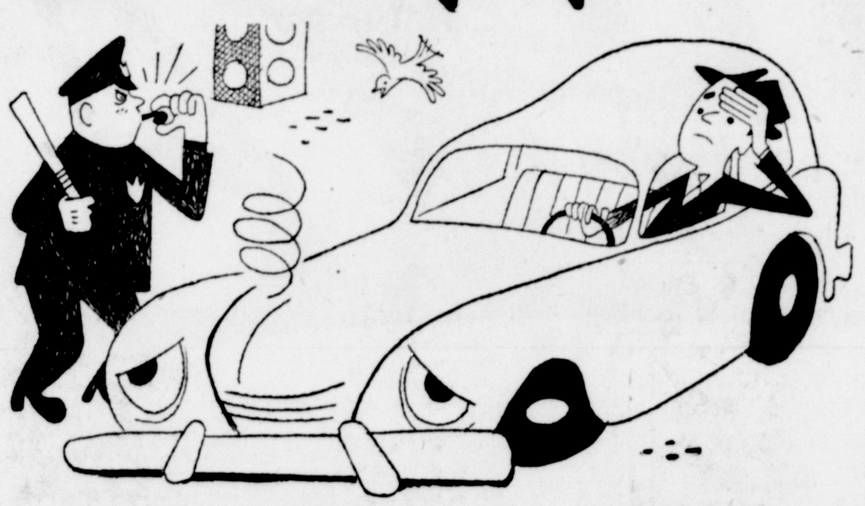

Money for telephone expansion can come only from investors . . . everyday people who put their money into telephone stocks and bonds.

The money you pay for telephone service must be used only to meet expenses and pay a fair return to these investors for their confidence in your telephone company's business ability.

Thus, the wave of telephone expansion programs throughout the country means more than just better telephone service. It is a thrilling example of continuing faith in the American free system in all forms of business.
